

It wasn't the wine talking...

I love the way you sit on the couch all Sunday...really.

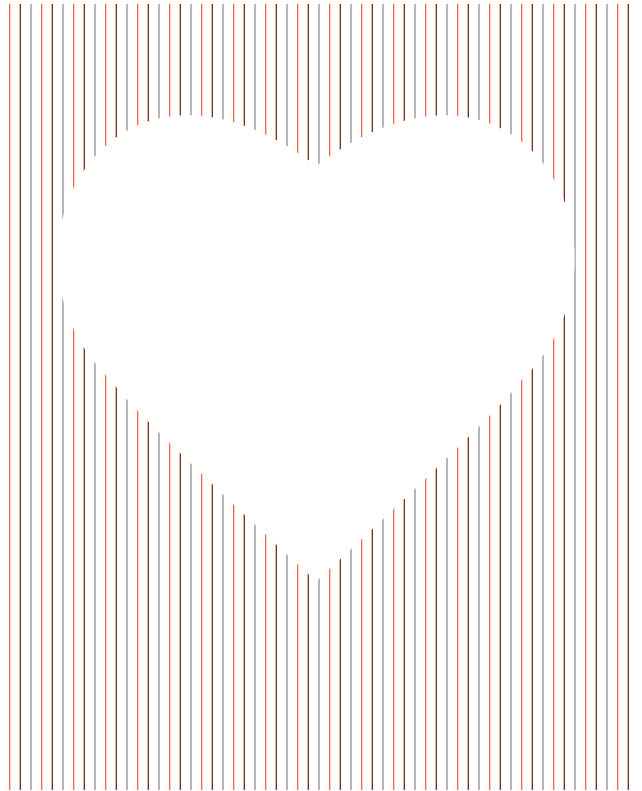

Being single is sexy!

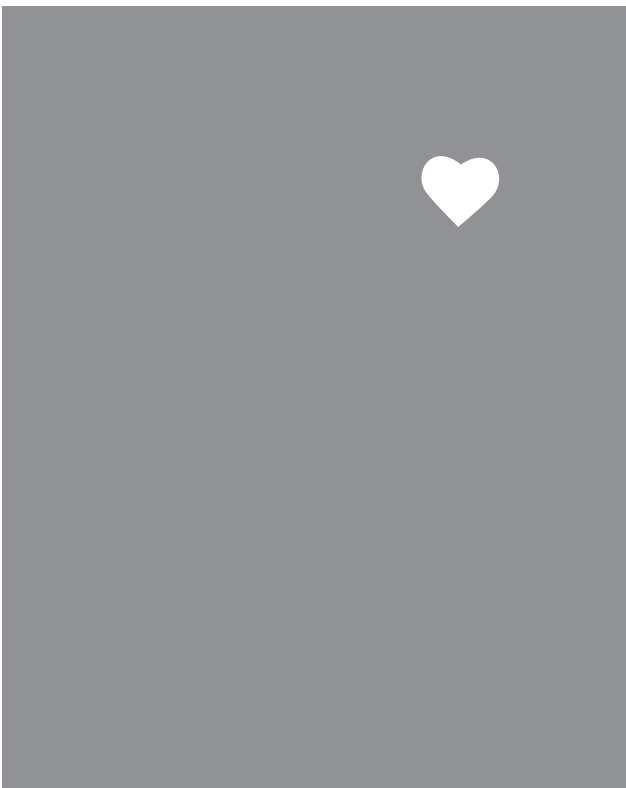

I think you're great even if your dates don't agree.

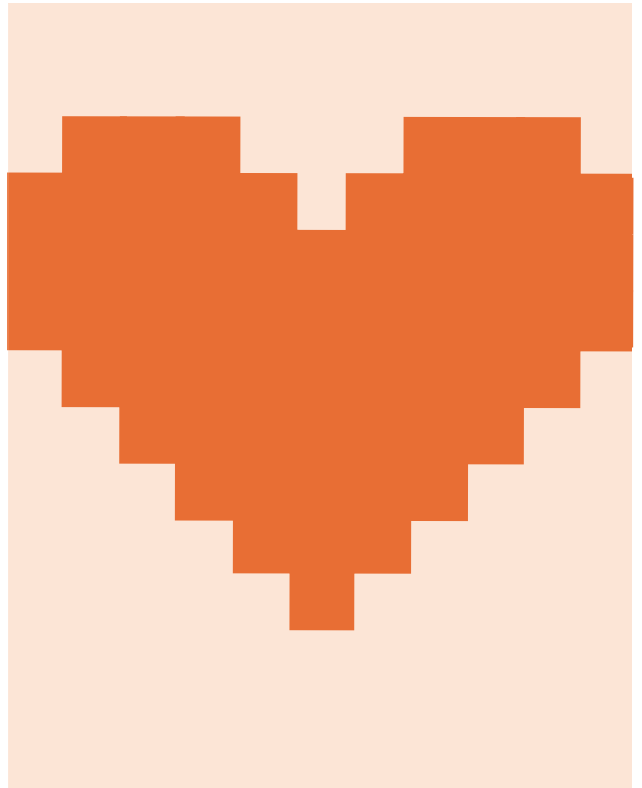

My financial advisor told me I should secure my assets, but I'd rather grab yours.

There is no one I would rather complain about Valentine's Day with, than you.

If I could commit, it might be to you.

I'm into you, even though I forget to call.
